Through sponsorship, geospatial firms join NSGIC as partners. State Geographic Information Officers (GIOS), statewide GIS coordinators, state agency GIS leads, state GIS coordinating council representatives, local GIS managers, federal agency partners, tribal representatives, national nonprofit collaborators, academicians, and fellow private sector colleagues all have a seat at the table.

And the table is expanding. In 2020, the foresight of NSGIC leadership found the organization well positioned to pivot at the outset of the pandemic, joining with other geospatial organizations to stand up the National Pandemic GIS Task Force, issuing a broadly endorsed statement on the importance of GIS in pandemic response and planning, and presenting a virtual annual conference drawing three times as many participants as last year’s conference - including a number of new stakeholders. The NSGIC online community, My.NSGIC, saw traffic increase tenfold, as members participated in general discussions, subject matter interest groups, committee work, and more. Virtual programming surged far beyond the annual conference, with networking events, member webinars, and joint online programs filling the calendar.

None of this would be possible without the support of NSGIC sponsors. You are our financial backers, subject matter experts, advocates, and solution-providers. Thank you for being such a vital part of the NSGIC community.
We may not know exactly what 2021 will bring, but NSGIC leadership is firmly committed to continuing to provide a serious return on investment to our sponsors. Your investment includes:

Access to GIS Decision-Makers and Influencers through:
- Social/networking events
- Speed Networking facilitated activity
- Individual consultations with the NSGIC Board
- Interactive discussions/workshops
- Digital attendance lists

Insights via:
- State activities, progress, and needs - through the Geospatial Maturity Assessment and annual Roll Call of States
- Articles and publications
- Programmatic initiatives, including 3DEP for the Nation, Elevation-Derived Hydrography for the Nation, Geo-Enabled Elections, and more
- My.NSGIC online discussion communities
- Updates on the greater geospatial ecosystem through NSGIC representatives and liaisons

Opportunities to Demonstrate Thought Leadership with:
- Conference-based presentations
- Webinars and on-demand content in NSGIC’s Learning Link
- Articles
- Fireside chats

Increased Visibility with Branding by:
- Roll Call of States company overview
- Recognition based on underwriting selections
Based on what we know now about the Covid-19 arc and its impacts to safety and budgets, we’ve assembled a few different scenarios for what NSGIC engagement might look like in 2021.

- Virtual Midyear Meeting + Virtual Annual Conference + Calendar of Other Virtual Programs Year-Round
- Virtual Midyear Meeting + Hybrid Virtual/In-Person Annual Conference + Calendar of Other Virtual Programs Year-Round
- Virtual Midyear Meeting + Fully In-Person Annual Conference + Calendar of Other Virtual Programs Year-Round
In all cases, the Virtual Midyear Meeting has been reimagined. It will be a three-day meeting, running from February 23 to 25. Tuesday and Thursday will be filled with a total of five two-hour workshops with substantive and productive discussions facilitated by NSGIC leaders. Wednesday will be the Innovation Summit focused entirely on emerging technologies and trends coming down the pike for state GIS. And of course it wouldn’t be a NSGIC event without lots of fun and networking sprinkled throughout.

Each Innovation Summit presentation will be limited to 30 minutes with an additional 15 minutes for chat-based Q&A. Follow-up discussions will be held in a private discussion forum for Midyear Meeting participants.

Five Innovation Summit presentations will be selected by the NSGIC Conference Committee on a competitive basis. As a sponsor, you have the opportunity to submit an abstract for consideration. Submission acceptance is not guaranteed and no points will be required for these competitive slots. Abstracts will be solicited in early January.
Virtual Annual Conference (possible)

Much like the Virtual Annual Conference held in September 2020, the 2021 Virtual Annual Conference will feature a weeklong program of interactive plenary sessions, breakout meetings, networking events, breaks and lounges, and small group discussions. On-demand content augments the week’s offerings and provides content options to stretch across time zones. If held virtually, the conference will be hosted on NSGIC’s Learning Link.
Hybrid Virtual/In-Person Annual Conference (possible)

We know that there’s nothing like interacting with conference participants in person. That’s why we’ll consider a 2021 Annual Conference that brings together the members of the community able to travel and virtually plug in those who can’t. The format for a hybrid conference will be developed in consultation with sponsors to ensure maximum return on investment.
Fully In-Person Annual Conference (possible)

The 2021 Annual Conference is set to be held in Dallas from September 20 to 24. If conditions permit us to hold the Annual Conference with “normal” attendance, participants can expect a conference experience that includes plenary sessions, lunch programs, and lots of great opportunities for social activities and networking. The true home of productive “hallway conversations,” the signature NSGIC conference would serve as a return to the best relationship-building interactions of the year.
Calendar of Other Virtual Programs Year-Round (confirmed with possible additions)

Even when in-person meetings resume, we anticipate continuing to build programming to connect members, sponsors, and partners to share information and foster collaborations. Leveraging technology for presentations, video chatting, panel discussions, roundtables, small group conversations, demonstrations, workshopping, and facilitated networking, NSGIC will offer an expansive collection of live and on-demand programs throughout 2021.
Sponsors secure opportunities by allocating points on a first-come, first-serve basis, opening to Gold and Platinum sponsors a week before full open enrollment begins in January.

Please note that you are not required to allocate all of your points at the beginning of the year. You can reserve points to allocate as NSGIC determines conference logistics and confirms sponsor opportunities. You may also reallocate points at any time during the year, depending on availability of sponsor opportunities.

SPECIAL NETWORKING

Special Networking
Speed Networking

Spring - Virtual Speed Networking will be held in early April 2021 as part of a full-day program for NSGIC state representatives. Sponsors selecting this opportunity will be invited to join state representatives for a portion of the day, during which sponsors will rotate Zoom rooms so they have a chance to speak directly with dozens of state representatives in one afternoon. Sponsors will receive a list of attendees for this virtual event in advance. (40 points)

Annual Conference - The second Speed Networking opportunity will be held in person at the Annual Conference if an in-person conference is held. In person, this event has sponsors moving from table to table of state representatives, as you rotate through the entire roster during the conference. If the Annual Conference is held virtually, the event will run in the same way the Spring event is run, and will be held during the Annual Conference timeframe. (40 points)
Member Mixers (25 points)

Held via Zoom once per quarter, this new hour-long networking event is fun and fast-paced as participants are randomly assigned to breakout rooms in groups of five, automatically switching rooms every 10 minutes. This is a great opportunity to chat with old friends and make new ones. Open only to NSGIC government members and sponsors selecting this benefit. Sponsors will receive contact information about registrants in advance of the event.

One-on-One Meeting with the NSGIC Board of Directors (30 points)

Sit down - in person or virtually - with members of NSGIC’s Board of Directors and Executive Director to discuss a topic of your choice. Sponsors may choose to speak with NSGIC leadership about organizational strategy and collaborations, share your perspective on current events shaping the industry, explore state priorities, or offer insights into your products or services. Meetings last 15 minutes and are scheduled virtually on an ad hoc basis or in-person at the Annual Conference.
Virtual Coffee Breaks (25 points)

NSGIC will set up a “coffee shop” meeting space where sponsors can host a 20-minute virtual coffee break for up to six NSGIC members, organized around a topic of your choice. NSGIC coffee mugs will be sent to participants in advance. Sponsors may choose to extend direct invitations or have NSGIC promote the event to all members to sign up on a first-come-first-served basis.

Registration Sponsor (20 points)

Annual Conference, if held in person - Take a seat (or two) at the conference registration desk, where you will have an opportunity to interact with attendees as they check in and pick up name badges and goodies.

Access to Digital Attendance List (10 points per conference or 15 for both)

Augment your meeting preparation and follow-up efforts with attendance lists provided before and after the conference. Lists include attendee names, states/organizations, email addresses, and mailing addresses.
In line with NSGIC’s strategic direction, conference content will be selected on a highly competitive basis. For sponsors, that means that there are fewer opportunities for “guaranteed spots” on the agenda. However, competitively-selected sessions will not require the use of sponsor points. Due to this shift, we encourage sponsors to pay close attention to deadlines for abstract submissions and to frame proposed sessions in terms of highest value content to the NSGIC audience. Please note that the expansion of other content delivery options offer alternative opportunities for sponsors to share their messages with NSGIC members (and, in fact, have additional benefits such as extensive playback via the NSGIC Learning Link).
Annual Conference Lunch & Learn (85 points)

The stage is yours. If held in person, the Annual Conference will feature two hour-long Lunch & Learn sessions, when sponsors present in a luncheon setting. Sessions are open to all conference attendees. If held virtually, these sessions will be scheduled in early- to mid-afternoon (depending on time zone). These sessions are not selected competitively, but on a first-come, first-served sign-up basis.

On-Demand Presentation (40 points)

In 2021, all conferences, held virtually or not, feature on-demand content. This content is branded with the conference and made available on the NSGIC Learning Link library. For in-person conferences, on-demand presentations are also available through the conference app. These pre-recorded sessions can be up to 60 minutes in length.
Keynote Sponsor (15 points)

Provide welcome remarks, not exceeding two minutes, before the Keynote Presentation. Rather than a company message, this is a chance for visibility and to introduce the keynote speaker. Limited to one sponsor per conference.

Roll Call of States (15 points; complimentary for Gold & Platinum sponsors)

Held during the Annual Conference, the Roll Call of States is a highly anticipated session. State representatives spend a few minutes sharing their year’s accomplishments, challenges, and goals. Participating sponsors also have an opportunity to briefly introduce themselves and share a highlight of their year. If held virtually, these brief presentations are done by video recorded in advance.
