VII. New Business
   a. GeoWomen Special Interest Group*
      Karen Rogers

      Karen shared the committee charter being put forth for the group. Motion to accept the GeoWomen as a special interest group was made and seconded; There was discussion about whether GeoWomen should be a committee or a special interest group. The charter was noted to be similar to the charter of a committee, with corresponding roles, chairs and responsibilities. NSGIC bylaws do not address special interest groups as an official designation within the organization. It was noted that it is a new group in the preliminary stages. The motion passed by 7 votes to none, with one abstention.

   b. Winter Virtual Caucus (topics)
      Karen Rogers

      Karen showed the working agenda and noted that they have not received a lot of suggestions for new topics and invited any suggestions from board members.

   c. Local Government Membership Level*
      Karen Rogers

      Karen on behalf of the Member Services Committee moved to have the board vote to adopt an annual membership fee of $150 for local government members. Currently the only option is the state level membership at $365 and the lower price point was intended to be affordable for local government budgets or to be paid individually. Concern was expressed about the potential for states to feel a lower fee was unjust. One board member opined that NSGIC’s mission is to serve states and membership recruitment should not extend to non-state government members. A suggestion was made to consider an introductory rate for both state and local members, potentially for a term of two years. The board asked the committee to explore the idea of the introductory period and determine its viability. No board action was taken.

   d. New Sponsorship Model*
      Bert Granberg

      Bert reviewed the new draft model and reported there has been extensive stakeholder input on the new proposed model. Motion to accept the new sponsorship model was made and seconded; vote carried unanimously.

The manager will be focused on the Geo-Enhanced Elections project, which has already begun. There is an outstanding unsolicited proposal made to USGS for a 3DEP coordination project. She also noted that Alaska has been selected for a Digital Coast Fellow, which NSGIC submitted on their behalf.
